Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Sunday 21 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells, showers mainly north and east coast. Cold.

Today:
Dry and sunny across much of central and southern Scotland. Scattered showers in the north, wintry on high ground with some showers running down east coast. The showers will die out later today. Feeling much colder with brisk northerly winds.

Tonight:
Southern half of Scotland staying dry with clear periods and a touch of frost. It will become cloudy in the north with a little rain, mainly over the Northern Isles.

Monday:
Most places staying dry but sunshine becoming restricted to south and east Scotland. Thicker cloud over northwest Scotland and Northern Isles producing patchy light rain. Fresh westerly winds in north.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Mainly dry and rather cloudy on Tuesday then a band of rain crossing Scotland on Wednesday. Colder weather following on Thursday with sunshine and showers, turning wintry on high ground.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.